Use this information and the images you collect online to create a full-colored tri-fold travel brochure for the Biome you've researched. Remember, you are trying to get people to come to your biome, so make the brochure eye catching and informative, highlighting the beautiful and amazing things found in your biome. You should refer to the attached tri-fold sample to help you design your brochure, but you may come up with your own design as long as you have all the same components.
